DELAWARE JUVENILE CIVIL CITATION PROGRAM

“Keeping kids on the right path!”

Program Updates

Since inception in 2015, Juvenile Civil Citation has been widely accepted and applauded for its contributions to Juvenile Justice Reform across the state. Here are some of our more recent program activities:

- Juvenile Civil Citation was signed into law by former Governor Jack Markell on September 6, 2016

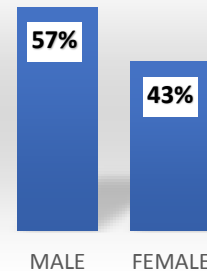

- Juvenile Civil Citation has a coordinating staff of 4 including the Statewide Coordinator
- The program has partnered with the University of Delaware and Wilmington University by providing part-time paid internship positions.
- Community Provider Back on Track will begin case management for Civil Citation youth in April, 2017

Statistical Data

Juvenile Civil Citation has been quite successful during the short time of its implementation. Here are some statistical achievements:

- 358 referrals to date - Average age of referrals – 14.4
- 86% Successful completion rate
- Disorderly Conduct makes up 62% of all referrals
- Possession of Marijuana makes up 33% of all referrals

Law Enforcement Training

Law Enforcement Officers across the state have been very supportive of this new initiative.

- All School Resource Officers (SROs) have annual training and updates regarding Juvenile Civil Citation.
- Delaware State Police had new recruits trained in issuing civil citation in 2016.
- Training was completed for New Castle County Police Department in 2016.
- Training is currently scheduled for Wilmington Police Department in June, 2017.

Goals for 2017 are to have webinars, and training modules completed and actively running for all sworn law enforcement across the state by the end of 2017.
